House And Senate Conferees Are Ironing Out Differences On Measure

HOPE TO SECURE VOTE TOMORROW

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Congressional conferees sought agreement today on the five and a half billion dollar authorization for European recovery with final passage possible tomorrow.

House and Senate conferees, headed by Rep. Kee (D) W. Va., and Sen. Connally (D) Tex., chairman of the House and Senate committees on foreign affairs, met to iron out differences in the legislation.

The House conferees are working against time as the lower chamber is scheduled to begin a 10-day Easter recess tomorrow night. Kee said he believes an agreement can be reached by this afternoon, although Connally is not so optimistic. The senator envisioned a two or three-day delay. House Speaker Rayburn (D) Texas indicated that the House will remain in session in any event until the European recovery program legislation is sent to the White House. He said members can leave Friday evening if necessary and still get home in time for Easter.

See Action Thursday

Administration leaders are anxious, however, to dispose of the measure by Thursday, fearful that it would be difficult to maintain a quorum in the House beyond that. If the conferees reach agreement today, the House and Senate can complete action on the legislation tomorrow.

Kee told newsmen that there is "little difference" in the two bills.

Longing glances were being aimed at city drinking fountains in the downtown section on Tuesday. Thirsty pedestrians would have enjoyed a cool drink. Connections will be made by city employees around May 1.

While cloudy conditions largely interfered with visibility during the eclipse of the moon in this area last night, there were periods when the clouds separated enough to allow some good views of the spectacle.

PA News notes that early peaches, plums, and other early blooming trees are now coming into bloom, away ahead of schedule, and expresses the hope that severe frosts will not prove damaging later in the season.

Sun bathing was in effect in many sections of the city on Tuesday with a number of the female members of various households enjoying a book or other reading material as they absorbed the bright rays of old sol in the outdoors.

Workmen applying a "hot roof" to one of the large downtown buildings on Tuesday found the day ideal for such work, but also discovered the bright sun soon caused them to shed coats and other outer garments. The hot tar flowed quite smoothly as they applied it to the roof top.

Temporary filler material is being applied to Route 18, South of Wampum to the Beaver County line in order to make the much used route easier riding for motorists, according to Alfred Martin, county highway superintendent. The highway head has presented the road to the state department for replacement but has received

Four Stages Of Last Night's Eclipse

Pictured here are four stages of the total eclipse of the moon over this region last night. The eclipse started at 9:28 p. m. (lower left) and was near its full stage at 10:28 p. m. (upper right). An eclipse of the moon occurs when the earth comes between the moon and the sun, with the earth's shadow blocking out part of the vision of the moon.

Moon Eclipse Largely Obscured By Clouds

By LEONARD S. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 13.—The moon did its disappearing act on split-second schedule, but many witnesses, including television viewers, agreed today that it wasn't much of a show.

Once-In-A-Century

Even so, it was a once-in-a-century type of eclipse—a complete blackout. Scientists explained that a "black eclipse" is caused by banks of rare clouds which are in themselves a phenomena and which wrap the earth as in a blanket.

These clouds, together with ice crystals, smoke and haze, robbed the performance of much of its color—particularly the coppery tint that usually rings the moon in normal "total" eclipses.

The obstructions killed plans by

Green Pennant Program Starts

Public Schools Enter Program To Seek Perfect Safety Records

New Castle's "Green Pennant" safety program is under way. All public schools in the city are entered in the safety program and for the balance of this month every student will be striving to avoid accidents. A clean sheet wins a green pennant for each of the schools achieving the no accident goal.

In the Castleton hotel Tuesday night the New Castle chapter of the Lawrence County Safety Council was organized. Later the county chapter will be organized. By the beginning of the fall term of school, Lawrence county schools will be completely organized, with public and parochial schools enrolled in Governor Duff's no accident campaign.

David McBride headed the meeting.

Russia Planning Mass Maneuvers Near U. S. Forces

BERLIN, April 13.—(INS)—Reliable sources said today Russia will shortly stage mass troop maneuvers, backed by new-type jet planes, in the Soviet zone of Germany to underline its hostility to the Atlantic Pact.

These sources said that the maneuvers will feature "North-South" striking attacks which will bring the 400,000 Red army troops involved face-to-face with U. S. occupation troops.

The purpose of these maneuvers, it was said, is to demonstrate to the West that the Elbe defense line—the eastern boundary of the Atlantic Pact—cannot be held against the power of the Red army.

The sources, who refused to be publicly identified but who are highly reliable, said that the Soviet Spring maneuvers will be the most powerful demonstration of Russian armed might outside the Soviet borders since the end of the war.

Bandits Hold Up Follansbee Bank

FOLLANSBEE, W. Va., April 13.—(INS)—Three bandits held up the Follansbee National Bank today at 11:15 a. m., the sheriff's office at Wellsburg, W. Va., reported.

The holdup men escaped in a 1941 Ford car bearing West Virginia license plates, according to the sheriff's office.

State police reportedly threw up roadblocks throughout the area in the belief the men were headed south toward Wheeling 16 miles away.

Spring Outlook In Pennsylvania Is Best In Years

HARRISBURG, April 13.—(INS)—The state agriculture department today said the "most optimistic" early spring outlook for Pennsylvania agriculture in many years is a result of the warmest winter since 1932.

In the first of a series of bulletins compiled by the federal-state crop reporting service for the 1949 growing season, the department said the warm winter months caused unusually early blooming but so far there is relatively little damage from frost.

Some oats are showing green while winter grains, pastures and hay fields weathered the cold months with little or no damage and conditions in general appear fine in all parts of the state, the department reported.

In Full Bloom

"In the southern part of the state, apricot and early plum bloom is about over," it added. "Early cherries and peaches are in full bloom. Some pears are in blossom and early apples are showing pink buds. Some fruit trees have been sprayed for the third time."

The open winter was favorable

Meyer Is Third Mystery Witness In Trial Of Reds

U. S. Government Presented Third Inside Man At Red Conspiracy Trials

NEW YORK, April 13.—(INS)—The U. S. government presented its third "mystery witness" today at the Communist conspiracy trial and he proved to be—like the others—a man able to testify on the "inside" workings of the party.

Witness No. 3 at the trial of eleven leaders of the U. S. Communist party is Frank S. Meyer, 39-year-old writer and lecturer, who identified himself as a former Communist agent on the University of Chicago campus.

He follows Louis F. Budenz, former managing editor of the Communist Daily Worker, and Herbert A. Philbrick, young FBI "contact man" who was active in Communism for nine years.

Philbrick left the stand late yesterday after five days of testimony.

Senate Will Not Rush Action On Atlantic Treaty

Senate Leader Says Domestic Legislation Will Be Taken Up First

PACT GIVEN SENATE BY TRUMAN TUESDAY

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., declared today that the Senate will dispose of its "important" domestic legislation before taking up the North Atlantic Pact.

Lucas at the same time indicated that the issue of whether American troops should be used abroad in implementing the security treaty will be a critical point of Senate debate.

He said the issue of implementation with arms and troops must be decided in debate on the floor of the Senate which received the pact from President Truman Tuesday. The Democratic leader, in reply to a question, said the matter of "troops" is "certain to be raised in the Senate."

Will Be No Rush

Lucas and other administration spokesmen in the Senate make it plain there will be "no rush" with the 12-nation treaty—mainly because its ratification hinges upon the arms implementation problem, upon which there is no information to date.

Lucas estimated that it will be a month or a month and a half before the pact passes through the hearings process of the foreign relations committee and reaches the Senate calendar. He added: "Our important domestic legislation will come first—ahead of the pact."

No Hearings Before April 25

Foreign Relations Chairman Connally (D) Tex., announced that the act hearings will not start until sometime in the week of April 25, one week later than originally scheduled. This is because new items had been placed on the calendar for immediate action.

Actually, the delay gives the administration time to put together its estimates on costs of arms to be furnished Western European countries as part of the pact's "self-help and mutual aid" proviso.

During the interim, Lucas said, the Senate will try to dispose of

Unification Plan Not Working Well

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(INS)—A senate committee disclosed today that Air Secretary Symington testified that the American military establishment has not worked satisfactorily under the unification.

Details of Symington's secret testimony before the senate armed services committee were made public on the heels of testimony by Army Secretary Royall that the present set-up is unsatisfactory and costly.

Royall started the committee Tuesday when he said that the country is "worse prepared for war than if the unification act had not been passed."

Symington said that "it is a matter of common knowledge that the national military establishment has not worked satisfactorily under the present law."

Greater Amount Of Steel Released For General Use

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(INS)—Commerce Secretary Sawyer was disclosed today to have ordered released for general use 173,000 tons of steel monthly which had been earmarked for the voluntary allocation program.

Sawyer's action resulted from a drastic cut in freight car building. Release of the steel from federal restrictions will make it possible for private builders to obtain a greater amount of steel through normal channels.

Four Are Killed In Tornadoes In Parts Of Georgia

MANCHESTER, Ga., April 13.—(INS)—Four persons today were reported killed and at least 30 others injured in tornadoes which ripped through towns in west-central Georgia.

Property damage in five communities was said to be heavy. Oliver Griggs was crushed to death when a railroad boxcar toppled over in the storm.

At least 20 other persons were injured and several buildings on Main street demolished by the swift-striking winds which hit the west Georgia town and caused an estimated $200,000 damage.

Red Cross disaster workers reported Boozie Passmore was killed at Zebulon and several members of his family injured when their house collapsed.

Near McDonough, in Bethany community, two unidentified children were hurt fatally when their house simply folded before the devastating winds.

Arab Bloc Seeks To Keep Israel Outside U. N.

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., April 13.—(INS)—The Arab bloc in the United Nations opened a final drive in the General Assembly today to keep Israel out of the world organization.

A succession of spokesmen took the rostrum in the 58-nation plenary session in an attempt to prevent the inclusion of Israel's admission on the agenda. They demanded that the question first be referred to the political committee.

Foreign Minister Zafullah Khan of Pakistan led the way, followed by Lebanon's Charles Malik.

Foreign Minister Rasmussen of Denmark also came out in support of the proposal to refer the item to the political committee. He declared that the assassination of Mediator Count Folke Bernadotte had not been satisfactorily investigated by Israel.

Sweden is of similar attitude. All Arab nations, supported by Britain, planned to stress during the day the need for sending the application to the political committee.

Expect House To Exceed Truman's Defense Ceiling

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(INS)—The House is expected to disregard President Truman's economy ceiling on the armed services today and vote a 16-billion dollar defense budget providing for a 70-group air force.

The sole major controversy foreseen on the measure before it is sent to the Senate centers around demands that an additional 300 million dollars for contracting for new planes be given the navy.

Would Boost Budget

Acceptance of this increase would further boost the top figure placed on the military budget by Mr. Truman.

The President in his budget called for $15,278,381,000 for the three services. The House Appropriations Committee approved cash and contract authorization totaling $15,909,116,800—an increase of $630,735,800 for the new fiscal year beginning July 1.

The committee gave the major portion of the increase to the air

Big Three Announce Decision Against Removal Of 159 Industrial Plants

MOST AFFECTED ARE STEEL PLANTS

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The United States, Britain and France announced today that 159 basic German industrial plants originally scheduled for removal as reparations will be retained to speed European recovery.

The Big Three agreement was based on a report prepared for the Economic Cooperation Administration by George M. Humphrey, head of the ECA industrial advisory committee.

Plants Listed

The three powers listed the plants which would better serve European recovery if left in Germany instead of being removed for use of the Allies as follows:

Thirty-two in the steel industry; 88 for metal working; 32 for chemicals, and seven for non-ferrous metal industries.

The agreement was reached after months of negotiation between experts representing the three western Allies.

A State Department announcement "should enable both the Allied recipients of reparation and responsible authorities in western Germany to plan promptly for the effective use of the equipment."

The revised list has already been transmitted to the Inter-Allied Reparation Agency at Brussels.

At the same time, an agreement was signed at Frankfurt by military governors of the three western occupation zones permitting Germany to engage in limited production of previous banned goods.

The Frankfurt agreement replaces the level-of-industry program which has controlled the German economy since 1946.

To Increase Capacity

Stressing the retention of steel-making equipment the report said this will increase western Germany's capacity by 165,000 tons a year beyond the present theoretical capacity of about 13 million, 300 thousand tons a year.

It said that the present limitation on crude steel in the three western zones of 11 million, 100 thousand tons annually will remain. However, the production of steel under the limitation and the theoretical capacity is required for greater flexibility and economy of

Senate Committee Approves Early For Defense Post

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(INS)—The senate armed services committee today unanimously approved President Truman's nomination of Stephen T. Early as undersecretary of defense.

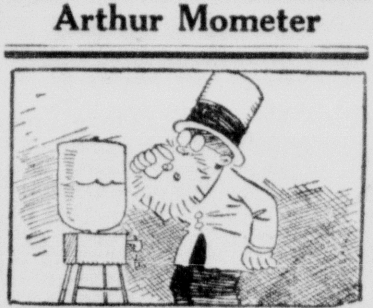

The action came after a short hearing on the nomination of Early, who was press secretary to the late President Roosevelt. The nominee was asked only two questions at the brief hearing.

Early was asked at the hearing whether he had resigned as vice-president of Pullman, Inc., and whether he intends to accept the defense post.

The signs of spring are busting round about us, the shrubs are putting out their cloak of green, and Mother Nature, brush in hand is busy, to paint her annual lovely pastoral scene. The kids are spinning tops and playing marbles, the onions have their noses 'bove the ground, the water cooler now is doing business, a sure sign of summer I have found, the teams are working up from down in Dixie and soon the baseball fans will see them play, the point is this, my friend, it's springtime weather, and I am glad, it's seventy-six today.

operation where the demand for finished steel products changes. The steel finishing capacity being left in Germany, the report said, is considered necessary if Germany is to use her crude steel capacity most effectively for European recovery.

Report Follows Study

The industrial advisory committee was set up by ECA to make a study of the German plants. The study involved 381 plants scheduled for removal and on Jan. 12 the Humphrey report recommended the retention of 167 plants of the 381 examined.

ECA then requested the State Department to undertake negotiations with the British and French to carry out the recommendations.

At a news conference later, Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman warmly praised the work of the Humphrey committee. The soundness of its work, he said, is attested by the fact that few changes were made by the Big Three to the committee's recommendations. Hoffman declared:

"The decisions reached by our government and the governments of Great Britain and France regarding these plants will make a definite contribution to the progress of the overall recovery program."

"From the very start I have held with you that we must consider recovery in western Germany as a whole. The decisions of these plants, which are final, resolve this problem in an entirely satisfactory manner."

They who sat before their television sets through the five-hour show between 8:32 p. m. and 1:54 a. m. were awarded by a blurry image in television's first ambitious attempt to "cover" the event. They insisted the show was quite a let-down, especially so because it followed Milton Berle and Boris Karloff.

Fare Little Better

More than 700 people took turns at the nine telescopes in the Hayden Planetarium without faring any better than those who watched the phenomena from the building tops.

The experts, who dismissed the whole thing as scientifically unimportant, but "mighty pretty to watch," disdained regular assistance. On top of Mt. Palomar, in California, the 200-inch "big eye" was passed up in favor of the naked eye. A Palomar astronomer scoffed that using the telescope for an eclipse was like "using a trip hammer to pound home a carpet tack."

The best visibility was enjoyed by residents of central and north central states, but reports from this area were that the whole thing was taken in stride.

The total eclipse was the first in four years. The next performance will be on October 6.

The bill before the House would boost the air force appropriation by approximately $51 million dollars more than was suggested by the President's budget. The USAF was given $6,215,709,000 to pay off previous obligations and to order enough planes to create 58 groups.

The President had directed the air force to reduce its strength to 48 groups by June 30.

Oats seeding is underway in the south but just starting in northern counties. A few early potatoes have been planted and some canning peas are above ground. Most strawberries wintered well.

Pastures in general are in fine condition but grazing is restricted so far to southern counties.

Striving To Break Dockworkers Strike

London Shipping Paralyzed, May Move In Troops To Unload
Ships In Harbor

LONDON, April 13.—(INS)—British labor ministry officials strove today to end a strike of some 19,000 dock workers which has paralyzed shipping in London harbor for three days.

The officials scheduled a meeting with leaders of the stevedores unions amid widespread predictions that troops will be moved in to unload ships Thursday unless the strike is ended.

The ministry's chief conciliation officer, Sir Robert Gould, took charge of the talks with union officials. It was expected that if the talks fail, soldiers will be ordered to unload food ships tomorrow and other vessels later.

Quickly Supported
The first dockworkers quit work Monday to protest dismissal of 33 fellow workers, and the walkout quickly spread. Union officials supported their men.

It was believed that Gould would warn union leaders that they face prosecution if they continue backing an illegal strike. Labor Minister George Isaacs branded the walkout "a challenge to authority...inspired by motives hostile to the best interests of dockers and the public."

The National Dock Labor board declared that communists are exploiting the strike "which threatens the welfare and stability of the nation."

Medical 'Airlift' Is Rushing Serum

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, April 13.—(INS)—A medical "airlift" started operations between Newfoundland and northern Labrador today to fly influenza serums and sulfa drugs to northern Labrador settlements.

Martha Grubb, a mission worker, said the patients are not responding to sulfa treatment.

The first drug laden plane, piloted by an RCAF crew, flew from St. John's to Hebron yesterday with a doctor, a nurse and orderlies.

hear them still more often. Familiarity breeds an appetite in him for hearing more.

Gains Interest
As this very young child gains interest in looking at pictures placed before him as in a beautifully illustrated book, with rhymes related to each picture, some of which rhymes are very familiar to him, these rhymes connect up in his little head with the pictures. Thus this little child, long before he is two years old, has begun to enjoy being read to, connecting with increasing pleasure what he sees with what he hears. Very soon he will be looking and listening as prose, too, with lots of pictures, is read to him. This I discuss more fully in my bulletin, "Books from Which To Read to the Baby and Young Child," to be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Should your baby at fifteen months or even three years of age not choose to sit and look and listen long enough to hear one illustrated rhyme or a few prose sentences, let him go. Try him later, again and again. Suppose, for instance, he at first grew restless after you had read two sentences from "Henny Penny." Start at the beginning the next time and you may have read three or four sentences before he tired. Start at the beginning the next time and so on. Before many months he'll be begging you to read the whole story over and over. I know this procedure works. It has worked with our children and it has been working with our many little grandchildren.

come, because it not only takes from potential consumers a substantial share of their purchasing power, but tends to reduce employment due to a decline in the demands for the products of agriculture and industry.

Any serious increase in federal tax rates at this time, with rates already extremely high in spite of the Republican cuts, would bring us shortly face to face with the well known law of "diminishing returns."

Russians Informed Soviets Are Tops

MOSCOW, April 13.—(INS)—Russians were blandly informed today that Soviet man is a perfect individual who "stands high above Shakespeare's heroes".

Soviet Professor Feodor Golovenchenko made the assertion in castigating Russian critics who, in praising Shakespeare, remarked that Hamlet's indecision is a universal trait.

Such critics, declared Golovenchenko in a broadcast, "turn a blind eye to the mental makeup of Soviet man". He added:

"They (the critics) prescribed an alien code of behavior for our heroic Soviet man—the Soviet man who scored a tremendous victory over capitalism in his country methodically upholding Soviet role in the struggle against imperialists, stands high above Shakespearean heroes."

PROTECTING VITAL SECRETS

Military intelligence officers want more stringent laws to protect secrets which are vital to the national interest. Recalling some of the recent scandals about leakage of state and military secrets, citizens are likely to agree. A bill to do something about it has been drafted with the guidance of intelligence experts, and now is before Congress. It has at least two highly questionable features.

The bill would provide criminal penalties for violation of orders issued by the secretary of defense for the protection of military equipment and property. It is a good idea to give the secretary authority to work out protective rules which can then be enforced. But Congress should be encouraged to frame such authority very carefully, so that the power to make criminal laws is not delegated to an executive official. An official must not be given an authority which amounts to the power to promulgate criminal laws by the simple act of issuing an order.

The bill would provide heavy penalties for taking, mis-using or failing to protect information that could be used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of a foreign power. That also is a good idea. But in its present form the bill lays on every individual the responsibility of deciding what information meets that description. This not only is unreasonable, but also would weaken rather than strengthen the protection of secrets.

All units of government which have secrets to protect should have officials with the special training and background to decide, reasonably, sensibly and surely, what information needs to be secret. Those officials should have the responsibility of classifying secret information, and the people as well as government employees then may properly be made responsible for protecting information so classified. There can be no question that protection of national secrets is necessary, but a clear head is needed in providing the instruments to do it.

A BIG SHIP FOR THE U. S.

It is to be hoped that the new 48,000-ton ocean liner the U. S. Maritime Commission has authorized at the cost of some $70,000,000 will give Americans cause to do more than glow with pride at having a big ship in the passenger service under our flag.

The new vessel, of course, will be considerably smaller than the 73,673-ton Queen Elizabeth, and it is being designed for quick conversion into a troop ship, if required. In this respect it will have greater speed than possible for some smaller ships, and, in case of a military emergency which everybody hopes will never come, should outrun submarines.

All these points are to the good so long as they do not mean that the Maritime Commission is going overboard for the sake of mere bigness alone. The United States needs more passenger vessels, for security reasons, if nothing more. But our needs are too great and there are too many other pressing projects of a life-and-death nature, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, for us to waste millions for the sake merely of owning a sea-going white elephant in any way similar to the ill-fated Normandie.

So far the new ship appears to be well within the bounds of reason, and doubtless is necessary as a spur to the peacetime development of a merchant marine commensurate with this country's growing needs.

ATOMIC PEACE

Residents of the United States have read and heard from speakers a great deal about the atomic bomb, not of its construction, but of the demonstrated destructiveness. There has been considerable discussion regarding the sharing of the atomic bomb with members of the United Nations, and emphasis has been placed on the matter by Russia.

Russia has not been willing to make concessions and agreements that would safeguard world peace, but rather would secure military advantages for its own use.

Representative Melvin Price of Illinois suggests use of knowledge of the terrible nature of the atomic bomb as a contribution to world peace through people of the United States and Russia.

"If the Russian people, as well as the American people, are given the full facts about the destructive potential of the atomic bomb, I believe a long step will be taken toward making sure there will be no future war," Representative Price says.

The girl who gets married because she is tired of working is in for the surprise of her life.

Russia claims to have 29,000 citizens more than 100 years old, but does not explain why anyone would want to live that long in Russia.

War talk, which reached a new peak last week, has subsided somewhat again. But not sufficiently to revive talk of reductions in taxes.

Some state legislatures are taking time by the forelock and planning to pass laws prohibiting the installation of television sets in automobiles. Seems to us these gadgets might be a good thing in cars if they were put in the rear compartments to keep the mind of back seat drivers off the road.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

A precedent establishing the fact that it is entirely possible for a trained diplomat in striped trousers and a dark coat to wage aggressive warfare was written into the records.

In the badly-lighted, marble-lined old Palace of Justice in ruined Nuernberg, a United States Military Tribunal handed down a verdict of guilty against Baron Ernest von Weizsacker and four other men whom Adolf Hitler entrusted with vital tasks in his war against the world.

The trials of these five men attracted scant attention when compared to those of Marshal Herman Goerring and his colleagues and collaborators on the topmost rung of the Nazi hierarchy.

Given More Important

But they were even more important in one respect. They cut deep at the heart of the German foreign office, that holdover from Prussian imperialist days which Hitler put to his own advantage in a shrewd manner that convinced the defendants of their own innocence.

Von Weizsacker, and old-line Junkers who knew political power on Germany's inside track when Hitler was sweeping streets in Vienna, served for a long time as ambassadors to the Holy See.

This extended capacity, far removed from the world at large, he was in a peculiarly able position to further Hitler's war aims and the Nuernberg court found him guilty of pursuing these to fruition against all the early victims of Nazi aggression.

There can be no doubt that Von Weizsacker's conviction came to him as the surprise of his life.

This suave aristocrat, whose wing collars, starched shirts and impeccably-cut tailcoats were the hallmarks of Germany diplomacy for decades, probably considered himself far more innocent than Franz von Papen who was acquitted at the first Nuernberg trials.

Von Papen was lifted from temporary obscurity by Hitler personally and formed the advance guard of Nazism in German nationalist cabinets that preceded the Nazi's rise to power.

He served in vitally important ambassadorial and government positions but was able to convince the International Military Tribunal at Nuernberg that his role in war and temporary conquest was an innocuous one.

Part Of Government

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank and finance minister for many years, put across an equally convincing argument.

Weizsacker and his colleagues had the misfortune to be part and parcel of the well-established "permanent" government in Berlin's Wilhelmstrasse—the policy-making organization which long has been an integral part of European governments.

Up to now officials of this type have escaped punishment for their actions on the grounds they were merely part of a machine, stripped of any real administrative action and compelled simply to carry out the dictates of their overlords.

The Nuernberg court, however, went to exceeding great pains to show that in actual point of fact, these men were activists who took advantage of their high positions to consummate a carefully-laid diagram of aggression in which they played important roles.

Eliminated None

It is a noteworthy fact that Hitler's plans for world domination eliminated no personalities who might conceivably be of use to him. The original Germanic tradition of general staff, which later turned to hatred when he came to consider himself the only man in Germany with the military knowledge of a commander-in-chief, later backfired.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

READING TO PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN

From the letters I receive now in comparison with the letters I received ten or more years ago, I gather that many more parents are reading to pre-school children. Yet from some letters and from information I pick up here and there I learn that a surprisingly large number of parents, even of those well educated, don't suppose a baby will listen nearly as early as he really would if he had the opportunity to do so. They let one or several good years pass before they try to cultivate in him enjoyment from listening to them read to him.

Some of these parents observing the infant's early interest in pictures of familiar things, put lots of picture books into his hands or talk with him or answer his questions about these pictures for many months before they utilize this strong interest of the little tyke for cultivation also his interest in certain sounds and words related to these pictures. They are not cultivating the child's ear along with his eye.

Snags More Pictures

Indeed, if the tot from fifteen months to three or four years sees more and more pictures, especially those related to his toys, without hearing some rhymes, phrases and sentences over and over again connected with these pictures, he may incline to want only to see more and more pictures, and to move more and more from one thing to another, growing more jittery and jumpy and less ready to wait and listen. Some very bright children as old as three or four won't wait and sit still long enough to hear one read to him. The problem with them is to get them to sit still long enough to listen and to enjoy listening in order to enjoy waiting to hear more.

Even before the baby is a year old, the wise mother sings lullabies to him says over and over with lots of swing and action, some of the nursery rhymes as she cares for him and plays with him. Growing gradually familiar with these rhymes and sounds, he likes to against him was engineered by a titled group of Junkers who saw Germany being led to destruction. But there is no record of the wealthy, cultured men of the diplomatic faction turning against the Fuehrer or plotting against his ambitions.

Von Weizsacker, under the findings of the court, carried on in his high post not the least disturbed or dismayed by what his master was planning. On the contrary he did all that he could—and it obviously was a very considerable amount—to make sure that Nazism succeeded in its aims. His conviction means mainly that evening dress is no shield for punishment by legal bodies seeking to eradicate the politico-military combines that thrive on war.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

If this new idea of mine works out, I am going to be a millionaire! My ElectroMan idea pestered out.

As you may remember, I was working on a human being without blood or sickness—everything electrical, everything mechanical. It was a marvelous scheme. But then, a fellow whom I told about it, said, "That's o. k. for your ElectroMAN, but how about an ElectroWOMAN?"

I dropped the whole thing right there and then. Much too complicated.

But this idea is different.

As you know, there are all kinds of "of-the-Month" clubs nowadays. There is the Book-of-the-Months Club; the Fruit-of-the-Month Club; the Candy-of-the-Month Club; the Picture-of-the-Month Club; the Show-of-the-Month Club, and many others.

My club is going to be the Marriage-of-the-Month Club, or rather, because of my conservative nature, I'll make it the Marriage-of-the-Year Club.

The idea came to me when I read about a movie actress breaking up with her sixth husband, who himself had been married several times before.

There is hardly a day that you don't hear of somebody getting divorced from a third or fourth or fifth spouse, and some of these displaced persons haven't any idea where their next husband or wife is coming from.

That is where I come in.

My club is not only going to find "next ones" but it is going to attend to all the little chores that go with annual remarriage.

For instance, we will store bridal dresses for female members and even have dressmakers to let them out as the brides middle-age spread increases, and remodel them to fit the prevailing style.

We will register the children so that each son or daughter will know at a moment's notice which one of the mother's husbands was his or her father. That also goes vice versa for the mother.

We will arrange sixty-day excursions (American or European plan) to Reno, furnish lawyers and justices-of-the-peace for our members and provide the necessary causes for divorce.

Some of the book-of-the-month clubs send books on approval to their members.

I had been thinking of doing that with prospective husbands or wives in my marriage-of-the-year club, but I am afraid it wouldn't be quite practical. The traveling expenses might be too high, and there is all that bother about wrapping and expressing, and so forth if they want to return the merchandise. So that is out.

Please don't apply for membership as yet. There are still a lot of details to be worked out, and I want to make sure that my proposed enterprise won't be subject to Senate investigation.

From Me To You

By MESEFALL

Shall we try and have a little fun today . . . fun with words . . . some thoughts that have been collected from here and there . . . and now are From Me To You.

I had me psychoanalyzed
And it cost me all I had
At first I told how good I was
And then confessed how bad
Now all my good intentions
Are disappearing fast
I'm just as mean as everyone
And normal now, at last.

A singing bartender at a well known New York hotel went to the coast with his wife and applied for a job at an employment agency. The conversation went like this:
Interviewer: Have you an occupation?
Applicant: Yes, I'm a bartender.
Interviewer: Well, we can't do anything for you in that line. Can you do anything else? Can you pick lemons?
Applicant: Can I? This is my fifth wife!

The hands that lift the cup that cheers should not be used to shift the gears. There are some people who pick friends . . . to pieces.

Modern parents divide their time between worrying over how their children will turn out and when they'll turn in.

A lady is a woman who makes it easy for a man to be a gentleman.

Most modern girls would rather be well formed than informed.

Johnson Aims At Presidency

WASHINGTON, April 13.—On the day that Louis Johnson was sworn in as secretary of national defense in an unprecedented and highly publicized mass ceremony, a dinner was given in his honor. On the dais were President Truman, Chief Justice Vinson and other notables.

At an appropriate moment from the rear of the room came cries of "Lou in '52." Thus was heralded the driving ambition of the new secretary. As one of Johnson's close friends put it:

"Lou has been running for president for a long time. But he really began in earnest when this job put him in the public eye."

I dropped the whole thing right there and then. Much too complicated. But this idea is different. As you know, there are all kinds of "of-the-Month" clubs nowadays. One Man's Opinion

Three-dimension movies are coming . . . first thing you know Gary Grant will lean out of the screen and greet you in the lobby.

And I hear two stars have been told to start dieting so they won't crowd people in the first two rows.

But Sinatra is still a problem . . . no one is quite sure he has a third dimension.

He just keeps buying oil wells and padding up his bonds if not his bones.

The third-dimension movie is a Danish discovery for the moment . . . eventually the Russians will claim it for Ivan the Terrible.

And they will prove that Ivan was terrible in any dimension.

Pushing His Friend

Johnson is reported to be privately pushing his friend, Floyd Odlum, the utilities operator and promoter, for chairman of the national securities resources board.

This is the post to which President Truman named his old friend, Mon Wallgren, but the Senate armed services committee refused to report the nomination to the Senate.

While Mr. Truman says publicly he will stick to Wallgren, it is widely conceded that the appointment must eventually be withdrawn. Odlum called on the president at the White House last week.

In these matters the president is said to feel, with considerable irritation, that the Senate seems to expect him to appoint agents from heaven who have had no prior connections of any sort. Wallgren was rejected because it was felt he did not have enough business background. If Odlum's name goes to the Senate, there very likely will be an inquiry into the closeness of his connections with the aviation industry, and it seems to me properly so.

Controls Corporation

Odlum is president of the Atlas Corp., a holding company. Atlas, according to a report to the securities and exchange commission last December, owns 418,200 shares of consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. This is slightly less than 20 percent of the total, and considered equivalent to control.

Johnson, prior to his appointment, was a director of Consolidated Vultee. So also is Victor Emanuel, Utility-Investment Tycoon who has had so much to do with moving President Truman's friend, George E. Allen, and several other figures out of the Roosevelt-White-Truman administration into directorships of large corporations.

Johnson recently approved a shift of approximately $157,000,000 in air force funds from other types of aircraft in experimental production to the B-36 which is made exclusively by Consolidated. This decision was said to have been approved by James Forrestal before he retired as defense secretary.

This may well have been a wise and inevitable move. Those with expert knowledge believe that in the past funds have been spread too thin over too many types of planes. Despite much criticism, the B-36 seems to have established its reputation.

But when all this has been said, there would seem to be a question of the propriety of the decision being taken by one whose self-interest must be, directly or indirectly, so involved. It raises too, some pertinent questions about the relationship between government and so-called free enterprise.

How To Clear A Slum?

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13.—Just across First Street from the white marble Senate Office Building lies a small segment of Washington slums. You would hardly notice it while walking along First Street, N. E. The houses fronting the sidewalks are not too bad. But turn up one of the alleys and there is your slum—a collection of wretched, smelly shanties from which big-eyed children stolidly watch the trespassing reporter.

The houses and rear-end shanties are going to be torn down to make way for a $20 million new Senate Office Building. The owners of the 78 lots will be compensated and the tenants of the alley-dwellings will have to move, let's hope, to better surroundings. The block will flash white marble and become a place of pride and interest to the thousands of tourists who annually glory in the beauties of their capital city.

Only Lucky Accident

But it was only a lucky accident that the Senate decided to clean up this blighted region. Had the site been ten times as squalid and now located anywhere but within walking distance of the capitol, the new building would not be going up there. Yet the idea of using public building funds for the double purpose of slum clearance has intrigued many social planners.

It intrigued, for example, Senator Hubert Humphrey, the dead-serious young man who used to be Mayor of Minneapolis. Back in 1943 Humphrey helped found the Civic Center Development Association of his home town. Humphrey had his eye on a section of Washington Street which housed most of the bums, evil-doers and tin-horn gamblers in town. What better way to eradicate this rats'-nest than to have it cleared for public building? Sen. Humphrey now has a letter from the Federal Works Agency in which Public Buildings Commissioner Reynolds has agreed to put the new $8.5 million Federal Court House in this place. There is a good chance that the new U. S. Customs House will get the same location.

Once the Federal government acts as a trail-breaker, the rest is relatively simple. It now appears that the Minneapolis Public Library and the General Hospital will move into the site. A plan is taking shape to interest businessmen in a super series of parking lots there. Thus the conquest over this slum area will be complete.

Seldom Happens That Way

But it seldom happens that way. As a contrasting example, let us examine a plan lately envisioned in Baltimore, Md. in a horror Lane, looking for State office space in this city, obtained an option to buy the story O'Sullivan Building, Baltimore's only skyscraper, which is set in the heart of the business section. Here a State government, with $5 million or more to spend on obtaining new quarters, devised a plan that would have ousted several hundred business tenants, cost the city government $100,000 in lost taxes and done nothing whatever to improve the State's only large city. Luckily the plan was defeated, but it serves to show how spenders of public money do not always plan to spend it wisely.

In whatever city you happen to be reading this column, there are plans to build or buy Federal, State or municipal structures, mostly for housing the bureaucrats. Much often than not the officials in charge of picking the site will do so for reasons of convenience, congenial surroundings or political favoritism. These are not good reasons. It does not matter much if the bureaucrats have to travel an extra ten minutes to reach their desks, or if someone fails to swing a lucrative real estate deal. But it matters much if the taxpayers' money can do double duty in putting up a new public building and simultaneously cleaning out the tenements and ghettos which breed so much of our crime, disease and political discontent.

To Spend $40,000,000

But this latter course will not be taken without public demand on the part of the localities. The Federal Works Agency will put its Post Offices, Marine Hospitals, Customs Houses and Court Houses where it listeth—unless forced or persuaded to do otherwise.

There is now a bill (S-714) before Congress which proposes to spend $40 million on selecting sites and drawing plans for Federal building. Senator Chavez of New Mexico, chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee, has a list of 4000 proposed constructions which the FWA would like to erect within the next several years. Properly planned, this program could do a lot for slum clearance and for the attendant problem of new housing. Unfortunately these are matters which get plenty of lip-service during election years and precious little attention after the votes come in.

Explosion Of Stored Bombs Kills Filipino

(BULLETIN)

MANILA, April 13.—(INS)—Two hundred thousand pounds of stored bombs exploded today at the U. S. Air Force base at Clark Field and killed at least one person.

Several others were injured in the blast.

American army authorities withheld the names of the dead and injured.

They said the cause of the explosion was not known. The blast occurred at 1:44 o'clock (3:44 a. m. EST) this afternoon. It started wide-spread grass fires which raced toward the army's 20th Station Hospital. The blaze, however, was brought under control a few minutes after hospital authorities would have been forced to evacuate the patients.

Soldiers patrolling Clark Field's bomb storage area in a jeep were the first to hear the explosion, and sounded the alarm.

Air force officials at Clark Field said that the blast killed a Filipino civilian employee while preliminary reports indicated that two American air force personnel were slightly injured.

Officials said the explosion was limited to one "terrible blast" which demolished a nearby cement pipe manufacturing plant and shattered windows in buildings a half mile from the bomb storage area.

Senate Measure Is Aimed At Delaying Transport Strikes

Senate Passes Bill Calling For 80-Day Cooling Off Period Before Strikes

HARRISBURG, April 13.—(INS)—Legislation calling for 80 day cooling off periods before strikes by transportation workers today moved into the house with senate approval.

The vote on final senate passage was 29-20. Highways committee Chairman John G. Snowden (R) Lycoming was not present for the vote.

Twenty-nine Republican senators walked off the floor when Sen. Samuel G. Neff (D) Lawrence assailed the bill and charged it would "affect the economic welfare of many, many more people than the transportation strike in Philadelphia."

The measure, submitted in a watered-down version of strike control by Sen. A. Evans Kephart (R) Philadelphia, resulted from a recent transportation strike of Philadelphia transport workers. Kephart's earlier strike control legislation was defeated in the senate.

The new bill would require 80 day waiting periods involving arbitration, before strikes could be called.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The Italian renaissance era will inspire next Fall's plush, extravagant dresses—but no designers are ready to admit it!

"In-the-know" sources reveal that the big-name style makers are visiting Rome, instead of Paris, for their autumn inspirations.

Among designers who invaded Italy for ideas are Adele Simpson, Valentina and Lilly Dache. Behind closed doors, they are reportedly dreaming up a 49 autumn season of velvet, gold braid and rich, queenly colors.

Result: Medici modes, botticelli bustles, and raphaelian ruffles!

Court Reverses Probate Appeal

Supreme Court Rules Will Of J. H. Morrison Is To Be Probated Here

OTHERS EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

In a decision Tuesday the State Supreme Court has reversed the opinion of the Lawrence County Court and ordered the will of the late J. H. Morrison to be probated.

The appeal to the State Supreme Court came after Judge W. Walter Braham had upheld an appeal from Register and Recorder Orville Potter's ruling admitting the will to probate.

J. Harvey Morrison died in 1948. His son Frank A. Morrison was sworn as administrator. A few days later he came upon a slip of paper upon which was written on November 29, 1919, "Dear Frank: If I never see you again, I want you to have everything I own. Keep this, it may be of some use to you some day. Your father, J. H. Morrison."

Mr. Potter ruled the will was valid and admitted it to probate. A grandson appealed the probating of the will and Judge Braham upheld the appeal, ordering the probate to be canceled and Frank A. Morrison, sworn again as administrator.

The ruling was appealed to the State Supreme Court and on Tuesday the higher court ruling came down. The estate is worth, net, about $20,000. Costs of the appeal come out of the estate.

Advanced Class In Ceramics For Adults

Pictured above is an advanced class in ceramic for adults, held three nights weekly at New Castle Senior High school, for those interested in Ceramic work. Shown in the photo (left to right) Mrs. Ann Reynolds, Augustine Gurgiole, the teacher, Mrs. George Roskos, Miss Kathryn Trick, Shirley Dover, Mrs. R. G. Dickson, and Miss Irene Mitchell.

This is the second year that Ceramic courses have been in progress at the local school. The students are studying ceramic jewelry, the making and decorating of small dishes and flowers. This not only calls for the know-how of clay mixing but also the art of forming and painting the article.

Students attending these classes are first instructed in preparing the clay, simple mold-making, slip pouring and making of plain plates and bowls. Then they are advanced to more complicated mold-making and intricate designs. These students are taught two methods of firing, first is the bisque or rough firing. In the second system of firing, the article is painted with engobe (glaze powder mixed with water). The firing leaves the article with a glossy surface.

Total enrollment for the three nights is well over sixty persons. All are women except one Augustine Gurgiole. Mr. Gurgiole (shown in the above picture), was inspired to take up this work when he priced a ceramic basket of flowers which was selling at $100 in a Pittsburgh store. When he heard of the classes at Senior High he enrolled and is rapidly developing a fine technic of ceramic artistry.

Drugless Health!

NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS. Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth—Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals

FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there regularly twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thionin in ancient Greece, where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results

WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic, and does not interfere with the foods in the intestines. It gets down to the root, cleaning and purifying, throwing away poisons—gas, toxins and bloating. Not like physics, oils and cathartics do, but in a Natural, harmless, safe way.

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE you to try GEO-MINERAL. Go to your drug store NOW and get one bottle. Use it seven days. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money in full.

TRY IT! It may be the remedy you NEED! . . . and making the best investment for your health. It may do wonders for you—make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 13.—Have you a yen to go in television but a face only a mother could love? Don't give up! That is my message for today. Just don't give up.

Do what the big brass in Television is already doing. Run, do not walk, to the nearest plastic surgeon and get your face re-sculpted nearer to the heart's desire of video.

Of course, you may have to wait at the operating room door while the plastic sawbones bobs the nose, shortens the chin and trims the ears of the mob ahead of you.

But in good time you, too, may have your face jacked up and re-arranged so that you will, look human to saloon-side audiences.

Having Faces Retooled

My first information that video stars are having their faces retooled for television came through the current issue of Variety, a magazine I read with the aid of an interpreter.

And sure enough, Variety had the right dope (a word used advisedly).

The video press departments of both the Columbia and the National Broadcasting systems shyly admit that what the television camera does to the average kisser shouldn't happen to Boris Karloff. Naturally, as TV spreads from saloon to saloon, more and more of its performers are going to put themselves in the garage for vital overhaul and repair work.

The television camera is a far more cruel taskmaster than the motion picture camera, both agreed. It magnifies every blemish. It makes a mountain out of a mole. It adds pounds to its victims in the most unwanted spots and can instantly turn a sweater girl into a bloomer girl, if you will pardon the expression.

Have Changes Made

A Mr. Vic Damone has just had a tuck taken in his nose for television's sake, and also a Mr. Henry Slade of the Slade brothers. Apparently the other Slade brothers are confident they will do as nature made them.

The Misses Barry, a singing team currently performing at the Chev. Paros, a Chicago retreat not to be confused with Carnegie Hall, have also had their schnozes trimmed, in case television lighting hits.

Other artists like Milton Berle and Henry Morgan, just like to be pretty. These two outstanding video stars had their noses bobbed and their profiles Barrymored years ago when video was scarcely a gleam in a bartender's eye. The gentlemen at both CBS and NBC, in referring to Morgan and Berle, could only surmise that the duo was (1) either the aesthetic type or (2) had a premonition of television almost as soon as did the inventor.

I mind well when Jack Dempsey, a non-video performer, had his nose sewed back on and prettied-up years ago. But I lay that to the hazards of his profession rather than any pre-vision of television-to-come.

Can't Conceal Hangover

Also, it was furtively revealed by CBS and NBC, nothing, either make-up or plastic surgery, will conceal a hang-over from the television camera. A video actor with a hangover simply looks as if he had picked up the face on the barroom floor and gotten behind it. Nothing will help him.

However, there is a bright side to all this face-value business. From time to time, I have grazed the video screen in news and other intellectual (naturally) programs.

Recently at a party I met a lady, or such she seemed, whose husband edits a video publication. With rare discernment, this woman told me that I was the hope of television, its bright new personality and a scintillating addition to the coming art. Who was I to argue?

"And furthermore," she added, "I also have told my husband you are proof of my old contention that you don't have to be good-looking to succeed in television." What price plastic surgery?

PERSONALS

Mrs. Margaret Mackenzie, of 611 East Reynolds street, who underwent an operation at New Castle Hospital, is somewhat improved.

Frank Sanfilippo of Spruce street, has returned home from Crile Clinic Hospital, Cleveland, where he underwent an operation, and is much improved. He has been ailing over four months.

Mrs. William W. McGaughey of Akron, O., is recovering in the Akron City hospital from a broken hip sustained several days ago. Mr. and Mrs. McGaughey are former New Casele residents. Mr. McGaughey being the division chief clerk of the Akron-Chicago division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

She was graduated from New Castle High school in June 1938 and from St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing in 1943. Mrs. Malone has been with the clinic since 1944. Government Expert Predicts Price Cuts And High Spending

Moderate Price Cuts Will Maintain High Spending In 1949, Economist Predicts

WASHINGTON, April 13—(INS)—A government economist on Tuesday predicted continued slight price cuts which will keep public spending high in 1949 as Easter shopping in some areas showed a heavier volume than last year.

Charles Stewart, Bureau of Labor Statistics program planning executive, predicted that "moderate price cuts in line after line will maintain a high level of consumer expenditures."

Stewart also told an American Legion regional economic conference that 1949 "may prove to be a year of very firm demand for employment" and that while there is no guarantee that a recession will not occur the outlook against such a contingency is favorable.

No Change in New York
Pre-Easter buying surveys showed no appreciable change in New York and some store executives there expressed "disappointment." However, a Federal Reserve board economist said the New York situation is "not typical of the country as a whole."

Philadelphia retail sales were reported 20 per cent higher than this time a year ago. The trend was mixed in other sections.

The Federal Reserve board pointed out that the agency's weekly sales index for three weeks and four weeks before Easter this year was up four per cent and five per cent, respectively, over the comparative period in 1948.

Some government economists were willing to predict the possibility of a spring buying spree.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

This railroad story from Sante Fe magazine concerns a young man who once found a five-dollar bill between the ties. From that time on, he never lifted his eyes from the ground while walking.

In the course of thirty years he accumulated 25,916 buttons, 52, 172 pins, seven pennies, a bent back, and a sour, miserly disposition. He lost the glories of the light, the smiles of his friends, the songs of the birds, the beauties of nature, and opportunity to serve his fellow man and spread happiness.

Elsa Maxwell credits three simple words for making guests at her parties feel welcome and at home. "When they arrive," says Miss Maxwell, "I murmur, 'at last,' and when they depart a protest, 'already!'"

A current favorite of nightclub comics concerns the French horn player whose toupee fell into his instrument, and who spent the rest of the evening blowing his top.

House Committee Starts Bill Through Legislative Mill

Looked Toward Tentative Adjournment Of General Assembly April 28

WASHINGTON, April 13—(INS)—The House on Tuesday rejected two attempts to reduce funds for the European recovery program as the five and one-half billion dollar Foreign Aid Bill neared passage under firm administration control.

The House defeated by large majorities a move by Rep. Preston (D) Ga., to effect a cut of 538 million dollars and a proposal by Rep. Smith (R) Wis., for a 380 million dollar slash.

The Preston motion was defeated 140 to 68 and the Smith amendment was rejected 162 to 86.

The votes cleared away the major obstacles to passage of the legislation authorizing an additional five billion, 380 million dollars for the Economic Cooperation Administration to carry ERP through for another 15 months, from April 1, 1949, to July 1, 1950.

Radio and audio-visual aids to education in schools and colleges, $100,000.

Financially-distressed school districts, $500,000; Academy of Natural Sciences at Philadelphia, $77,000.

REPORT NEW FORD-GM DEAL ON HYDRA-MATIC

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—Ford Motor Co.'s Lincoln Mercury Div. has reportedly negotiated an agreement with General Motors for the use of the Hydra-Matic transmission on Lincoln and Mercury cars, according to Automotive Industries magazine.

The details of the agreement have not been revealed, the magazine reported but it is understood that GM will furnish the unit, to Ford beginning sometime in early summer, possibly June. GM's Detroit Transmission Div. is currently near completion of a new plant near the outskirts of Detroit which will permit greatly expanded production of the Hydra-Matic.

The understanding is that the Hydra-Matic will be offered on the Lincoln first, and will later be available on the Mercury.

United States banks are now speeding credit availability, using airplanes to transfer checks and cash.

Country Air As Much Polluted As Big City Air

State College Professor Of Meteorology Points Out Pollution Of Country Air

STATE COLLEGE, April 13.—People who leave the city for the weekend, seeking a breath of clean, country air, really are escaping only the man-made pollution in the air.

Dr. Hans Neuberger, professor and chief of the division of meteorology at the Pennsylvania State college, points out that country air is not necessarily "clean."

The so-called "clean country air" contains argon, neon, helium, ozone carbon dioxide, radio-active emanations from the earth, and various nitrogen and sulfur compounds. There also may be variable amount of water vapor and many solid and liquid substances. Small meteors that bombard the earth disintegrate and the resulting dust amounts to about 1,000 tons per day. In addition, there are pollen spores, viruses, bacteria, and other micro-organisms.

Dust storms and volcanic eruptions produce a tremendous amount of dust, Dr. Neuberger says. The eruption of Mt. Katmai in Alaska in 1912, for example, threw 24 billion cubic yards of dust into the air, dust that was still detectable in Europe as late as 1914.

The San Xavier del Bac mission, in Arizona, was founded several centuries ago by Padre Eusebio Kino of Spain. His first Arizona mission was built in 1692.

A CORNET BECOMES A TRUMPET WHEN TWO-THIRDS OF THE TUBING IS CYLINDRICAL TO ONE-THIRD CONICAL.

IN THE OPEN

The countryman stood in the snug glass cabin atop a fire tower in the timber country and looked far out across the wooded hills. Down below a gorgeous mourning cloak butterfly danced through the open forest aisles. The warmth of the bright April sun had lured this fragile beauty from hibernation to bring out the first touch of airy grace to the leafless woods. A lone buzzard rode the up-drafts on a lazy course which took him close by that hilltop lookout.

The maples blushed in rosy confusion clear across the landscape. Here and there a brooding hen-laid the egg to add a somber note to the picture. Far off to the north a spreading plume of smoke was soon tracked down to a plodding freight. Another white pillar climbed into the sky on the southern horizon. The forester checked location on this danger signal, but finally passed it over as a sod fire, tended by the distant farmer.

An Occasional Gust

An occasional gust rattled the metal bones of the tower, and gave the countryman a few uneasy moments up there above the tree tops.

The tower phone brought in a routine call from the area headquarters, as the men of the forestry service went about their task of guarding the precious wooded acreage against the fires of careless visitors to the timber country.

Arbutus, truly the breath of April, was in full flower along the woodland paths. The countryman brushed away the dry leaves and revealed the fragrant blooms hiding there among the rocks. Close by were the plump red fruits of the "tea" berry, accenting little bronzy patches of the varnished leaves.

The countryman found it hard to reconcile the tardiness of the timber country with his home valley, only 90 miles to the south. Here in his own bailiwick the first wave of spring blossom is nearing the crest, while the arbutus and the shame-faced maples were the only flowering plants yet able to dent the softening armor of the Frost King on those upland hills.

During the weekend the countryman drove several miles across country to keep rendezvous with a group of semi-pro botanizers for a trek through the hills. The objective was to find in full flower the twin-leaf, an early-blooming perennial whose flower somewhat resembles the common bloodroot. The leaves are divided almost completely into two equal halves, which gives the plant its name.

Presents Snowy Clusters

After a rather stiff pull up and over a steep wooded hillside, the group came out on a bench along which grazing cattle had etched a convenient path. Here the twin-leaf was at home, presenting showy clusters for the camera addicts, and affording the countryman his first acquaintance with this beautiful plant.

Also in bloom along that bench was a little plant with fine-cut leaves and yellow flowers known as golden corydalis. This is a somewhat rare resident of the open woods and rocky banks. The bloodroot was in full flower everywhere, and the countryman came across a sunny hillside starred with the blooms of the hepatica and later found a great area over-run by the little blue periwinkle known as myrtle, probably an escape from an old burial ground.

A big burly queen bumblebee came droning about the waxen bloodroot blossoms. She was quite obviously on the prowl for some ready-made hollow in which to set up housekeeping. Even in early April, when the bombus queens must waste no time in idleness, "they're lazy to look at, an' kinda go buzzin' an' hummin' around" so slow.

New Arrival Revealed

An evening foray by the big impounding reservoir revealed a new arrival. Far out on the water rode a common loon, the largest of our freshwater diving birds. The countryman watched the big fellow loafing around out there when another, perhaps his mate, came winging along but a few feet above the water. They will probably move farther north to raise their family, although one loon spent a solitary summer on this dam a few years back.

The countryman suddenly came awake to the pleasant fact that another trout season is at hand. A preliminary checkup revealed plenty of leaders left over from last April and all other tackle in good shape. The mountain streams roar down through the hemlock shaded glens and roister on out to the open country where the fly caster piles his art. In limpid pools scattered along those fast rips a dozen or so big speckled fellows are waiting to try the countryman's skill with the spinning minnow. "Behold the fisherman—the truth is not in him."

Acheson Explains Meaning Of Pact

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(INS)—Secretary of State Acheson declared on Tuesday that the Atlantic Pact "does not mean the United States would automatically be at war if we or one of the other parties to the treaty were attacked."

Acheson made that assertion in a letter to President Truman April 7 which was made public in connection with the President's message to the Senate on the pact.

The secretary pointed out that under the constitution Congress alone has the power to declare war. He explained: "The United States would be obligated by the treaty to take promptly the action which it deemed necessary to restore and maintain the security of the North Atlantic area. That decision as to what action was necessary would naturally be taken in accordance with our constitutional processes."

Embezzlement Of $28,000 Is Charged

Allege Memphis Man Supported Two Wives, And Two Basketball Teams

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 13.—(INS)—Memphis police today held David A. Prager, 29, on charges of bigamy and embezzlement of $28,000 which he reportedly spent in support of two wives, a child and two basketball teams.

Chief of Detectives M. A. Hinds said Prager confessed that he took the money from the Hunt-Berlin Coal Company in Memphis over a period of five months.

Prager, cashier for the firm, admitted to authorities he also used the money to support two amateur basketball teams, one an all-girl team and the other a boys' quintet.

He said he married Mrs. Anita Coburn 2½ years ago in Memphis. They have a one year old son. He met Annie Joyce Katz Prager in her Memphis home recently and after a whirlwind courtship married her in Hernando, Tenn., last Jan. 31.

Prager told Detective Hinds he spent week days in Memphis and on weekends journeyed by air to his other wife, whom he recently moved to Los Angeles.

He said his Memphis wife knew of his recent 19-year-old bride.

Prager added that he told Mrs. Anita Coburn Prager that he had embezzled the money last March 23 and asked her to inform his employer.

Prager was seized Monday as he arrived in Memphis with $1,130 in his pockets.

Nine Former Nazi Leaders Guilty On Plunder Charges

NUERNBERG, April 13.—(INS)—Nine former leading Nazi officials were found guilty today by a U. S. war crimes tribunal at Nuernberg of plundering and despoiling occupied countries.

Three others were acquitted of the charge, sixth of the counts against 19 top Nazis on which three U. S. judges have been delivering their verdicts in the past three days. The charge had earlier been dropped in the cases of four of the defendants, and never placed against the remainder.

Those Found Guilty

Those found guilty of the plunder charge included: Lutz Schwerin Von Krosigk, former minister of agriculture; Hans Heinrich Lammers, chief of the Reichschancellery; Wilhelm Stuckart, state secretary in the interior ministry; Wilhelm Keiper, Hitler's economics adviser; and Paul Koerner, deputy to Goering.

Acquitted were Baron Ernst Von

Weizaecker, Hitler's envoy to the Vatican; Gottlob Berger, former chief for prisoner of war affairs; and Ernest Woermann, head of the political section of the foreign office.

It was the third conviction for Keiper in the six counts thus far decided. Six of the defendants have now been found guilty on two counts.

SPECIAL SERVICE AT CLIFTON FLATS

Rev. Samuel C. Baker, pastor of the Clifton Flats Mission, has announced a special service for Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when the annual passover feast communion and feet washing will be observed.

Electric use is UP... ...price is down!

In the factories, on the farms and in the homes the use of electricity has reached a new high. This increase isn't a sudden development. Actually, it's been on a gradual rise over the years. In 1928 our residential customers used an annual average of 518 kilowatt hours while in 1948 they used 1905 kilowatt hours—almost four times as much.

While the use has been going up the cost has been coming down. In fact the average price for residential service is less than half what it was in '28.

Just like every other business, we must pay more for most everything we need. Yet, because of the ever-increasing use of electricity and constant economies in the operation of our system, we are able to bring you convenient, dependable* electricity at the lowest price in our history.

*And we're going to keep it dependable! Right now we are in the biggest construction program we've ever undertaken—millions of dollars to be invested to take care of the ever-increasing demand for service.

Cancer Fund Drive Chairmen Praise Volunteer Workers

Workers Now Covering Residential Area With House-To-House
Solicitation

Mrs. Blake Waldo and Edwin O. Feass, co-chairmen of the Lawrence County Unit of the American Cancer Society's 1949 campaign for funds today praised the work of the hundreds of volunteers who are working on the drive.

At campaign headquarters Mrs. Waldo said the "paper" organization is meaningless unless there are those who will donate their time and a great deal of effort to this fund raising venture.

Various committees have been assigned to canvass such groups as fraternal, business, labor and women's clubs. A door to door solicitation is also being made.

"We hope to make it possible for everyone in this area to have the opportunity of giving to the cancer drive," the chairmen stated.

There is evidence that 1949 may well be the most important year in the cancer conflict. Detection programs and laboratory discoveries have resulted in the saving of many lives and generated a more optimistic outlook concerning the outcome of the bitter battle.

Sixth ward volunteer workers are making pleasing progress in the residential solicitation. Ward chairwoman Mrs. Henry J. Hamilton has 12 ladies cooperating in this effort. These include Miss Margaret Orres, Mrs. Phyllis LeComte, Mrs. David Pearsall, Mrs. Olive Hoover, Mrs. Olive Doot, Mrs. Annie Gavroy, Mrs. Paul Kelley, Mrs. Dallas Sloane, Mrs. Gilmore Smith, Mrs. Carmen DeLeon, Mrs. David Wheale, Jr., and Mrs. Robert Conti.

The next report of progress on the drive for funds will be made Friday, April 15.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Turn About Is Fair Play

As children grow up it is only natural that they will begin to want to entertain their friends. If we, as parents have made them feel that the home is theirs as well as ours, young people will feel quite comfortable about inviting school friends in for a meal or an afternoon snack.

In one home, mother and daughter worked out an agreement for entertaining that they found very satisfactory. When the girl was having friends, mother took the main responsibility for preparing food and cleaning up afterward. When her mother had guests Suzanne did the main jobs. Of course, they helped each other but the fact that whoever was entertaining could count on being largely free to be with her guests was very pleasant.

Far too often one finds mother becoming the household drudge, taking on extra responsibility without assistance from the other members of the family. She will appreciate the feeling of having time for her own guests.

Such arrangements may not always fit into the household routines. The main point is that the fact of helping one another, however it may be done, does a great deal to build good relationships between the two generations.

House Favors Bill Authorizing Parking Authority In Cities

Bill Would Affect Philadelphia,
Scranton, and 46 Of State's Third Class Cities

HARRISBURG, April 13.—(INS)—Legislation authorizing parking authorities in Philadelphia, Scranton and Pennsylvania's 46 third class cities was reportedly favorably by the House, Tuesday.

The bill, introduced by Sen. Louis H. Farrell (R) Philadelphia, was understood to have originated with Philadelphia's city administration which proposes operation of a vast municipally-owned parking authority.

The Farrell bill, reported to the floor by the committee on third class cities, extends the program to the other cities by amending act of 1947 confining the authority project to Pittsburgh.

Parking authorities are empowered to establish and operate at a profit tax free parking areas for motorists.

The cornerstone of the United States Capitol building was laid in Washington in 1793, but the government did not move into the city until 1800.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop!

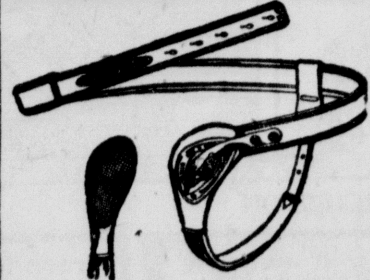

Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit, and establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead: Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then—nothing! Every day: drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity.

Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit. How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers. Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.

Break the laxative habit... with Carter's Pills... and be regular naturally. When worry, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit. Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore for 35¢ today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

Business Failures Estimated At 236

Estimate Of Week Ending April 7,
Highest Number Since
April 2, 1943

NEW YORK, April 13.—(INS)—Dan & Bradstreet, Inc., announced that commercial and industrial failures in the United States increased to an estimated 236 in the week ended April 7. This was the highest number occurring in any week since April 2, 1942, and compared with 216 in the preceding week. Business casualties were three times as heavy as in the comparable weeks of 1948 and 1947 when 79 and 71 occurred. Re-tailings and wholesaling suffered the sharpest increases in failures. The Middle Atlantic states had the greatest number of casualties, 69 as against 48 a week ago, while failures in the Pacific States rose to 51 from 49 the week preceding.

NEW YORK, April 13.—(INS)—The Oil and Gas Journal reported that crude oil production in the United States dropped to the lowest level in almost three years in the week ended April 9. It said that daily production was slashed 156,150 barrels to 4,911,025 barrels, due mainly to sharply reduced April allowable output in Texas. Meantime, the Bureau of Mines reported that in the week ended April 2, stocks of crude oil increased 1,245,000 barrels to a new high of 267,751,000 barrels over the week preceding.

Report Condition Of New Jersey's Jails

TRENTON, N. J., April 12.—(INS)—Stanford Bates, state commissioner of institutions and agencies, today advised fastidious wrong-doers to stay away from local police lock-ups in New Jersey.

Bates said only about one third of local police lock-ups are "satisfactory" as to facilities and management.

Of 245 city jails examined, only 89 were found to be acceptable. They ranged from two which were rated excellent, to 22 listed as "impossible."

President Makes Visit To Senate On Tuesday

By ROBERT G. NIXON

(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—President Truman declared on the Senate floor Tuesday afternoon that he hopes history will prove his efforts to help America "have not been in vain."

The president observed the beginning of his fifth year in the White House by lunching with former Capitol Hill colleagues. He then took his old seat in the Senate Chamber and responded to an invitation to address the senators.

Mr. Truman recalled the dramatic moment four years ago when he was summoned to the White House to take the oath of office as president a few hours after the death of his predecessor, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The chief executive said: "I want it clearly understood that on my part there is no celebration on this day."

Day of Sadness

He added: "This is a day of sadness for me. . . . Franklin Roosevelt was one of the greatest presidents we ever had."

Mr. Truman went on, speaking quietly but in a voice that carried to every part of the hushed chamber:

"I have tried my level best to carry my burden in the interest of all the people."

"I hope that when history is written it may be said that my efforts have not been in vain."

The president expressed the hope that "this will not be the last time" he could have the privilege of sharing the Senate floor with his colleagues.

Mr. Truman retold in eloquent detail how as vice president he was called from his office in the Capitol on April 12, 1945, to be informed of Mr. Roosevelt's death at Warm Spring, Ga.

The president entered the Senate Chamber unobtrusively. He hesitated a moment, peering first through the frosted glass of the door leading from the office of Senate Secretary Leslie Biddle.

Noticed by Visitors

Visitors in the Senate gallery did not notice the chief executive at first. But a woman spotted him, pointed dramatically with her umbrella, and excited whisperings swept the galleries.

When the president left the chamber, Sen. Bridges (R) N. H., who had relinquished the floor in order that Mr. Truman could speak, jokingly chided him for not visiting the Republican side of the aisle. Bridges said:

"I was very happy at this interruption. It is an honor to have the president of the United States visit this body."

"I had hoped that the president might have come over to his side of the aisle, as is the habit at the Army-Navy football games, where he changes sides at the first half."

"There is certainly no more controversy here than there is between the Army and Navy these days."

"I assume that he was with us in spirit at least."

The president, who walked unerringly to his old seat—now occupied by Sen. Chapman (D) Ky., one of the administration's less tractable Democrats—was welcomed to the chamber by Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill.

Senators and spectators applauded. Sen. O'Connor (D) Md., who was presiding at the time, observed that the visit of the president was "vindication of the very close relationship between the legislative and administrative branches."

Reason for Visit

Mr. Truman thanked the Senate for its courtesy. He said he had just finished a "good lunch" with members of the Senate.

He said the reason for his visit was the fact that four years ago he had spent his last day on Capitol Hill as vice president.

The president recalled that on that day "the Senate adjourned at 5 o'clock" and that he went to confer with House Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex., on "a matter pending before both houses."

He said that when he arrived at Rayburn's office he received a message to call the White House; he did so, and was told to "go to the White House as soon as I could get there."

Mr. Truman said that when he reached the executive mansion Mrs. Roosevelt informed him that the president had passed away. He told the Senate:

"I immediately asked if there was anything I could do for her or the family. She informed me it was not herself or the family who needed help but the former vice president who was in need of help."

Civil Air Patrol Officers Selected

Pick Group Of Eleven To Head New Organization At First Official Meeting Tuesday

New Castle Squadron No. 68, Civil Air Patrol, had its first official meeting Tuesday night at Cunningham Armory.

After a short discussion on the duties and responsibilities of members, information forms were passed out and filled in by the more than 50 members present.

Using the information on the forms as a basis to determine experience and other qualifications, the following men were selected to become the official staff: Major John J. Dachko, commanding officer; Captain G. E. Horchler, executive officer; Captain Edwin L. Smith, operations officer; First Lt. Karl Walter, personnel officer; First Lt. Jesse Long, training officer; First Lt. Herman Siggelew, commander of cadets; First Lt. Don Hoover, pilot information officer; First Lt. Richard Woryk, supply officer; First Lt. Charles McConahay, engineering officer; First Lt. Ralph Fere Jr., communications officer; Second Lt. Ralph Reider, photo officer.

"Sky Blitz in the Netherlands—World War II," a captured Nazi film on paratroop warfare was shown through the courtesy of Captain Charles Weddle, USAAF recruiting officer here by a representative of Rick Motor Co.

The group also made final plans for donations to defray the freight expenses on the squadron's link trainer to be shipped here from Westover Field, Mass.

CAP is still interested in acquiring new members. Any one who would like to join this air-minded group should attend the next meeting April 26 at Cunningham Armory.

TOBACCO SHARES FEATURE TRADING

Rally Today Regains Some Of Drop In Stock In Tuesday Trading

NEW YORK, April 13.—(INS)—Price swings in Liggett and Meyers Tobacco shares dominated stock market attention for the second successive session today.

In contrast to its four-point tumble of yesterday, however, the stock rallied 2½ points to 74 in early dealings. The issue was selling ex-rights to buy new stock at $50 a share. The rights sold at 5¾, a gain of ¼.

Elsewhere in the tobacco group, American Tobacco gained a point to 67½ while Reynolds sagged ½ to 36.

Mixed price trends were the rule in other sections of the market. Chrysler was a selling target, declining 5½ to duplicate its former low for the year at 51. Unchanged levels prevailed most of the time in such key leaders as U. S. Steel, General Motors, Bethlehem Steel and Union Carbide. Armour preferred sold off ½ point to a new low at 60.

State Prepares Stand-by Rent Control Plans

HARRISBURG, April 13.—(INS)—Administration-sponsored stand-by rent control measures to supplement federal laws were before senate committees today being prepared for swift passage.

Two bills, bearing administration approval and prepared by the justice department, were introduced by majority leader John M. Walker (R) Allegheny, and majority whip Fred P. Hare (R) Somerset.

The legislation, to be known as the emergency rent control law, would set up a five-man state rent control board to study housing, administer rent control, set maximum rents, decontrol rents and prohibit manipulation of housing charges.

Penalties for over-charges would be not more than three times of the over-charge and not less than $25. Lawsuits against landlords making over-charges would have to be instituted within a year.

To Permit Hearings
The measures would permit local municipalities to hold hearings to determine a need for rent control. If decontrols would be indicated local authorities would notify the governor. Should he decide decontrol was advisable, the federal housing expediter would be notified and the area would be taken from the list.

Sixteen "defense-rental areas" covering the state, would be governed by the board. Should the major portion of a "defense-rental area" be decontrolled the housing expediter would abolish the remainder of the area.

The measures dove-tail into the housing and rent act of 1949 formulated by congress and would go out of existence with it in 1951, or earlier should congress repeal it.

Warrant Officer Kossyta spent several years as a prisoner of the Japs, being taken captive at an early date, and he told of the ill treatment received, having been taken to China, where he was shut around from camp to camp.

He told of the poor food, and ill treatment accorded the captives, some of whom were civilians captured on Wake Island and other spots in the Pacific area, which were overrun by the Japs at the start of the war.

Guests of the club included Major H. V. Joslin, in charge of Marine recruiting in western Pennsylvania, S-Sgt. T. W. Rafferty, of the local Marine recruiting office, and S-Sgt. E. J. Laughlin, of Pittsburgh; Ed. Tramsen, of the Butler Lions; D. E. Vernon and D. Burleigh Clark, of the Stoneboro club, and Clem Riddle, of Youngstown.

CAPE MAY, N. J., April 13.—(INS)—An empty oil tanker and a freighter burst into flames at their bows today when they collided in foggy Delaware bay near Ship John Shoal.

No one was reported injured, however. The Coast Guard at Cape May reported that the Sun Oil Company's 11,000 ton S. S. Pennsylvania Sun had sent out an appeal for additional supplies of foamite to fight the flames.

National Safety Council Traffic Awards Made

CHICAGO, April 13.—(INS)—The state of Massachusetts and the city of Washington, D. C., were named grand award winners today in the National Safety Council's 1948 national traffic safety contest.

Thomas H. McDonald, commissioner of the U. S. public roads administration and chairman of the judges who chose the winners, said Massachusetts was picked for its second grand award because of its sharp reduction in its mileage death rate. He said:

"If every state in the union could have a death rate as low as Massachusetts—4.2 per 100 million vehicle miles—more than 15,000 lives would have been saved throughout the nation in 1948." The nation's capital, which also took first place for cities over 500,000 population, captured top honors for making "the outstanding traffic safety achievement in the country."

Newport Methodist Easter Program

An Easter program will be presented in the Newport Methodist church, Easter Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock by members of the Sunday school under the direction of the teachers appointed by Eugene Hall, Sunday school superintendent.

The program will include recitations, exercises, a pantomime and a playlet entitled "After Three Days". Special music will include a solo by Rev. James B. Palmer.

pastor of the church, a duet, "Palm Branches" by Misses Beverly Veon and Thelma Jackson and a solo by ten year old Buddy Coblentz. The children have worked hard in planning and practicing for the program.

MOOSE BATTLE

JACKSON, Wyo.—During the blizzard season, open warfare broke out between motorists and moose for possession of highways in this area. Highways were the only parts of the snow-covered region free of towering drifts. Seven bull-headed moose were shot by motorists in a short period. In some instances they charged automobiles which challenged their right to the roads.

There are enough seats in the trolley coaches, street cars and buses of the United States to seat the entire population of Australia at one time.

Two Die Result Of Injuries In Auto Accident

PITTSBURGH, April 13.—(INS)—Evalyn Shepherd, 32, of Pittsburgh and J. Douglas Brimmer, 27, of Youngstown, O., died today in Pittsburgh's Allegheny General hospital from injuries sustained in an auto accident Sunday.

Miss Shepherd was engaged and after Easter planned to marry Paul Tayman, 29, of Callery Junction, Pa., who was the third victim of the auto accident. His condition was reported as good.

Tayman and Brimmer were the drivers of two automobiles which collided on Route 19 near Warren-dale, Pa., early Sunday.

B. & O. Replaces Section Of Track

Employees of the M. and W. Department of the B. and O. railroad here are engaged in replacing a six mile section of track below New Castle Junction, Terminal Master William Mort stated today.

The old 130-pound rails are being replaced by 140-pound rails to carry the heavy traffic.

The growth of railroading is attested to by the fact that many of the old timers on the road can recall when only a 50-pound rail was needed to carry traffic, but with the increase in the weight of locomotives and the loaded cars, heavier rails have been added from time to time.

Baseball, as a whole, should have one of the greatest years in its long and honorable history.

Molter Heard By Large Audience

Chicago Man Makes Address On "Christian Science" Tuesday Night

Unlimited spiritual assets with which to meet daily problems are the possession of every man, woman and child, a capacity audience in First Church of Christ, Scientist, was told last night by Harold Molter, C. S. B., of Chicago. Mr. Molter is a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Speaking on "Christian Science: The Science of God's Abundant Provision," Mr. Molter stressed that sincere thinkers can begin at any time to enjoy the abundant life which was promised to mankind by Christ Jesus. He was introduced by W. Lowrie Kay, First Reader of the church, who said that since God is Love—as stated in I John 4:8—He could not possibly withhold any good from the man of his creation.

Mr. Molter spoke substantially as follows:

In the New Testament the words and works of Christ Jesus, the great Way-shower for all men, illumine the inspired pages of the Scriptures with a great spiritual light. Yet he recognized the fact that mankind was not ready to receive the complete revelation of the truth which came to demonstrate, nor to realize the abundance of Christian living which comes to those who follow in his footsteps.

The final revelation of the truth about God and man, with its assurance of unlimited good for man, was presented through Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer, Founder, and Leader of Christian Science, in her book entitled "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Through the study and application of its teachings, any sincere thinker can begin immediately to enjoy the abundant life which the Way-shower promised to all mankind.

When Jesus was betrayed by Judas and brought into the judgment hall, Pilate said to him (John 18:37): "Art thou a king then?" Jesus answered, "Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end I was born, and for this cause I have come into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth." Here is a clear statement of the spiritual vocation or true business of every man, woman, and child. The various human activities in which each one is engaged daily are but incidental.

Each one of us may well consider that the name of his business is "Spiritual Resources Unlimited." Herein is recognized the fact that every idea of God is eternally and unceasingly supplied, supported, and sustained by inexhaustible Love.

Every Christian Scientist must learn to realize that he has a partner, the best partner that anyone can have in the practice of his business, is "Spiritual Resources Unlimited." The name of our partner is "Christian Science."

This partner unfolds to us unlimited spiritual assets, balanced and sufficient inventories, a boundless surplus, countless credits, constructive contacts, a constant flow of orders, a perfect balance, increasing interest and dividends, safe insurance, and assured success.

Dulles Charges Red Leaders Of Posing As Peace Lovers

Charge They Pose As Peace Lovers While They Make Plans For World Revolution

NEW YORK, April 13.—(INS)—John Foster Dulles accused Soviet leaders on Tuesday of falsely representing themselves as "peace lovers" while they are making plans for world revolution.

The American delegate to the United Nations credited the U. N. with exposing the Russia propaganda campaign, and said this "important" disclosure "led to the solidarity against the efforts of Soviet Communism."

He described the recently-signed North Atlantic Pact as "an added force for peace and security" and asserted the Mutual Assistance Alliance is a "support" and not a "substitute" for the world body.

Dulles staunchly defended the 59-nation U. N. organization as "indispensable" to the peace of the world, although, he said, it is "no guarantor against war."

Dulles, chairman of the board of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, asserted that the United Nations has played just as important a role in maintaining world peace as has the American possession of the atomic bomb.

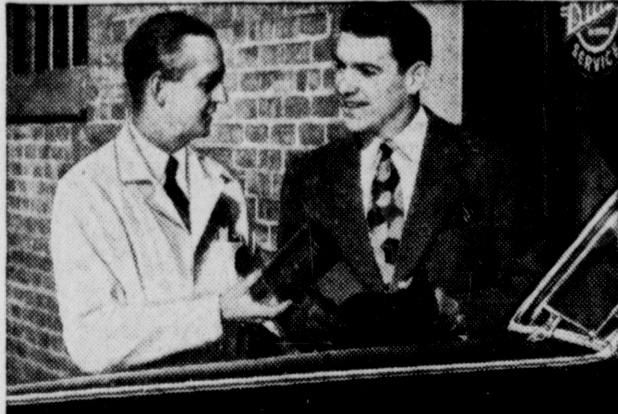

The U. N. delegate attributed what he called the present low prestige of the United Nations to its original reputation as a "cure all." He described the world organization as a "victim of free advertising by well-meaning, but over-enthusiastic and inexperienced friends."

MacArthur Refuses Jap Labor Leader Moscow Conference

Russian Mission In Tokyo Protested Publicly MacArthur's Action Today

TOKYO, April 13.—(INS)—The Russian Mission in Tokyo protested publicly against the refusal of Gen. MacArthur's headquarters to permit a Japanese labor leader to attend a conference in Moscow. It was the second such action directed at MacArthur by the long-dormant Soviet Mission in two days.

The Allied supreme commander was also asked by Russia's chief representative in Japan to countermand the purge of a Japanese political leader.

Officials at MacArthur's headquarters confirmed a Russian statement that a Japanese labor representative was refused permission to go to Moscow for the Tenth Congress of Trade Unions. The conference is slated to open April 19.

The American authorities said their ruling was made last Friday. They explained that it is occupation policy to refuse exit visas for Japanese who wish to attend "politically motivated" gatherings.

The Russian Mission charged in a news release that American occupation officials are attempting to "isolate Japanese trade unions from any contact with USSR trade unions."

It declared that the American officials "resorted to rude and arbitrary actions in trying to restrict the associations of Japanese trade unions only to that which exist with the American Federation of Labor." The Russians claimed the American occupation authorities "favor" the AFL.

Manager Billy Southworth Denies Any Dissension On Boston Braves

BOSTON, April 13. — (INS) — William Harrison "Billy" Southworth, winner of four National League pennants in eight years, denied today reports of dissension in his Champion Boston Braves.

Published reports said the team was torn by dissension and headed for the league's second division. Southworth, who was reached by telephone at a Columbia, S. C., hotel, listened quietly as he was told by the Boston American of published reports of drinking among his players and that he had taken to drinking himself in self-defense. He blew up, however, when he heard he "was resigning."

He challenged: "Wait a minute on that one. I'll admit we have the usual amount of harsh words on this southern training trip. But the stories that the Braves and I are ready to swing punches is absolutely not true."

"And it isn't true that I'm ready to quit. I've a five year contract with the Braves and I intend to remain in Boston for every one of those five years. I will answer every charge that has been made but first get it straight that I'm sticking with Boston."

"I am genuinely fond of my players. They are a wonderful bunch and I don't know why anyone wants to say they are ready to mutiny. They have the best of spirit. We'll get along better than ever now that all this has come out in the open."

"Check this off too—the Braves are going to win the pennant and the world championship also. That's my answer."

Boston Stunned
The startling story of rebellion among the Braves stunned Boston fans.

It was published in the Boston Daily Record by Dave Egan, well known sports columnist, and declared that Warren Spahn wanted to be traded because of his treatment by Southworth. The Braves' manager said:

"About this drinking business next. You want to know about me laying down the law to my drinking players and to a charge that I show up on the playing field with a few too many. That's a lie."

"The boys are behaving all right. I may have to watch a few of them but let me worry about that. I have a beer myself after a hard day's work or while laying around at night. I like a drink but I find my stomach can't stand it. With me, it's just a bottle of beer."

"There aren't any boozers on my club and there aren't going to be any. That's enough for that."

"About trouble with Sain, Spahn, Shorty Young and Russell. That's a lot of hogwash."

When Lou Shirey, representative of the State Athletic commission comes here tonight to aid Tony De Andrea in "running" the Lyons-Pozza fight, Russ Baxter, and others, will ask Shirey to remove the blockade he reportedly put against Baxter following his last fight in The Arena. Baxter was tired, and failed to be impressive. However, it now develops that Baxter worked all day in a foundry before stepping into the ring, and his daily labor sapped his vitality. Lake Placid Seeking '56 Winter Olympics

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., which doesn't believe in being caught with its skis down, is doing its Olympic "shopping" early and apparently doesn't care who knows it.

The Adirondack resort wants the winter Olympics in 1956 and started after them yesterday with forthright American enterprises—from the floor of congress in Washington.

Detroit Bids
The modus operandi was a pair of senate and house bills, authorizing congress to drop everything and extend Lake Placid's invitation to the International Olympic committee to return the '56 winter games to their 1932 site.

Detroit is seeking that year's major Olympic championships, but in the old fashioned way. It is extending its own invitation.

DUKES TROUNCE JACKETS 8 TO 1

PITTSBURGH, April 13.—(INS)—Both Duquesne and Pitt agreed today that Waynesburg is an obliging team with which to open the season.

The Dukes got off on the right foot yesterday in Pittsburgh by thrashing the Yellow Jackets, 8-1. Carl Grefenstette, slim right hander, allowed Waynesburg only three hits and had a shutout until the sixth inning.

Last Saturday Pitt opened with Waynesburg and won, 6-0.

Kane High Sends Basketball Back

Edmund Wicht Gets Game-Ball Back, Gesture Of Fair Play On Part Of Kane

HARRISBURG, April 13.—(INS)—Edmund Wicht, secretary of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association, Tuesday received the PIAA Class B Championship basketball from Kane High school in "a gesture of fair play."

Wicht said the basketball used in the Ashley-Kane high school championship playoffs was given by the referees, after the game to Kane which dropped a last minute basket to win 45-44 and get possession of the crown in hot dispute.

Principal Writes
He said he received a letter from Paul R. Miller, principal of Kane High, which said:

"I am sending by registered mail the basketball which was used in the Ashley-Kane game."

"Since you have under your custody the trophy and individual medals, we believe it would be best if you had custody of the ball until such time the Board of Control decides to whom it belongs."

Decision May 27
Wicht stated Miller's action was "A gesture of fair play."

The PIAA Board of Control scheduled consideration of the disputed game at its regular meeting May 27. It has impounded the championship trophy and 15 gold and 15 silver medals, given to the winners and to the runners-up, until it has passed judgement.

George B. Breznay, Ashley principal, protested the winning goal on grounds Kane won the game on a foul-throw tip-in after the game ended.

WOODPECKERS KNOCK WITH GOOD REASON

AMHERST, Mass.—(INS)—Next time you see a woodpecker knocking on your prize elm tree, don't scare him away. He may be destroying beetles which spread the Dutch Elm disease.

Woodpeckers feeding on beetles may be the best clue leading to the discovery of trees affected by Dutch Elm disease, according to Dr. Malcolm A. McKenzie, director of the Shade Tree Disease Laboratory at the University of Massachusetts.

McKenzie says the elm beetles winter over in bark, where they are eaten by woodpeckers. In addition to aiding in the discovery of disease fungus, woodpecker work often indicates hazardous conditions in trees, says McKenzie.

North Carolina And Illinois Boys Arrive To Bolster Nats Pitching Staff

Two more young hurling prospects have arrived in New Castle to bolster the Nats pitching staff—arriving today from Lenoir, North Carolina was Charles "Chuck" Henry, big right-hander, and arriving last evening from his home in Rockford, Illinois, Giardullo is a southpaw.

Both Henry and Giardullo come here highly recommended as possessing a lot of pitching cunning.

Fine Looking Prospects
Another fine looking prospect arriving here yesterday was Herb Churchill, of Gloucester, Mass., a big right-hander, with a lot of promise.

Another boy due in today is Stan Zedalis, a right-hander also from the Chattanooga Club.

Manager Billy Mongiello is anxious for good weather to get the practice sessions under way. Rain last night and today made the field impossible to workout on.

Tempy's Invade Sharon Tonight

Tempy's Have Strong Lineup. Will Seek Junior Champion-ship

Tempy's Beach basketball team will travel to Sharon this evening to play a second round game in the Sharon amateur junior tournament. They will meet the winner of the Ashabula-Rocky Grove game at 10:45 at the Buhl club.

The Tempys reached the semi-finals in the tournament last year and having already copped the Sharon senior tournament last week, they are installed as heavy favorites to take the honors this year.

Strong Lineup
Pat DeMarco will coach the team and he will have a strong and well balanced squad of former Ne-Ca-Hi stars in his lineup.

The roster includes Don Black of Slippery Rock college, Chuck Rea of Salem and Clyde Shaffer of Westminster college along with Don Reed, Harp Janacone, Wayne Gray, Tony Ciaella, John Pace and Al Marcotulli.

The team will leave from Tempy's Beach at 9 this evening and all players are asked to be prompt.

Mahoning To Hold Shoot Saturday

Mahoning Sportsman's club will hold a lucky target shoot Saturday at Hillsville. Only shotgunners will be permitted, and ammunition will be available on the grounds. The shoot is designed to aid in obtaining fish to stock the club's lake.

V.F.W. JUNIORS TO MEET

V.F.W. Post 315 junior baseball team will have a practice game this evening at 5:30 on Colonial Field. All players are requested to be present and those desiring a tryout will be welcome.

Knockout Apt To End Heavies' Bout

Jackie Lyons of Oklahoma City, who is to fight Ezzard Charles in the latter's tune-up for his tital battle with Jersey Joe Walcott, and Billy Pozza, sensational puncher of Ellwood City, meet in a bout scheduled for eight rounds in The Arena tonight, but will the fight go that long?

This query is on the lips of fight fadom of New Castle and environs, as 8:30 p.m. draw's nigh, when the first of five battles is scheduled to start.

Lyons, a veteran of pro' ring fighting, is fortified with pugilistic acumen while Pozza, youthful as a pro' boxer, possesses vim, punch and confidence.

Should Johnny Luccisano's White Hope come through o'er the Oklahomaian, Billy will be able to step against better rated foes, in larger cities. Should he fail, Pozza will have to improve prior to seeking higher laurels.

Among those who believe that Lyons will make a "hit" tonight is Russell Baxter, who, a few years ago, looked like a diamond in the rough. However, ring adversity trailed Baxter, and he is now taking a much needed rest.

Pozza will weigh about 187 while Lyons will enter the ring weighing approximately 195 pounds, according to reports current here. Luccisano and Pete Boy will second Pozza and Bunny Buntag, manager of Lee Sala, will handle Lyons.

Indications point to action in the main bout. In fact, Pozza, a 13 times winner and once loser, knows nothing else but fight while Lyons, already picked to fight Charles in a tune-up, doesn't want to muffle anything tonight.

Several Action Fights
The Duke Peaks vs Johnny Izzo fight, a six-rounder, should be replete with action, if the first fight is a criterion. According to reports Izzo intends to start swinging at the bell and hopes to do a "Les Leasure" and drop Peaks.

The phenomenal Chuck Higgins, Campbell's Soporific Kid, is to battle Marty Marlin of Cleveland, at 160, in a six, Drexel Vickers, classy boxer, for a youngster of East Liverpool, takes on Buddy Walls of Sharpsburg, in a four at 145, and brawling Andy Bailey of Ellwood City will swing with Ray Bassett of Sharpsburg, in a four round heavyweight curtain-opener.

According to officials of the Jefferson A. C., promoters, there'll be a capacity crowd and they advise fans to wend their way into The Arena as early as possible after 7:30 p.m.

The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission will supervise the promotion in which Pozza will meet the best opponent he has yet engaged in an Evening's Evenin', or Manly Art of Punch and Be Punched.

Committee Starts Intensive Banquet Drive

Sportsmen To Meet Thursday

Lawrence County Council of sportsmen will hold their monthly meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Oakland Sportsmen's club. Delegates who attended the north-west division meeting of the State Federation of sportsmen, will deliver a report. The meeting was put forward one night due to April 15 being Good Friday.

WILL HAVE WORKOUT

The Union Civics baseball team will have a workout at the Scotland Lane field at 5:30 o'clock tonight, it was announced by Carm DeLeone, manager.

Cleveland Likes "Mauler" Wagner

CLEVELAND, April 13.—(INS)—Dick Wagner, the Portland, Ore., pulverizer, has found a new home in Cleveland—and he can stay as long as he wants, as far as the city's fight fans are concerned.

Durable Dick, winner by a knockout in each of two previous Cleveland starts against Blackjack Billy Fox of Philadelphia, scored again Monday night with a split decision over Artie Levine, Brooklyn heavyweight.

But it looks as if the free-swinging Wagner will have to do it all over again with Levine, just as he did with Fox. Plans already are underway to rematch the two at an early date.

Chubby Wright, Reading, Pa., light heavyweight who stopped Wagner six weeks ago, made an unimpressive Cleveland debut when he lost a 10-round decision to Cleveland's classy Chuck Hunter in the 10-heat semi-final.

An intensive baseball banquet ticket selling campaign has been undertaken today by a group of Booster committee members for the big April 28th event at the Cathedral.

A meeting of the Booster group was held at the Castleton hotel last night.

It is definitely established that Ossie Bluege, at present the farm director of the Washington Senators, and former manager and star third sacker a few short years ago, along with the veteran dean of sports writers Ed Bang, sports editor of the Cleveland News, will be the two principal speakers.

Confirmations Secured
Confirmations have been secured from both Bluege and Bang.

It was announced that the banquet will get under way at 6:30 o'clock with a musical program, to be followed by the serving of the dinner at 7 o'clock. The ladies will have the dinner ready to serve at 7 o'clock.

It is planned to have the entire party over by 10 o'clock at least, in order that any who work the night shift can get to their employment.

Greet The Nats
The banquet will be the means of the people of New Castle getting acquainted with the Mid-Atlantic league Nats.

Mike Cannavino, president of the New Castle club will be one of the honored guests, along with Manager Billy Mongiello, and members of the team.

The New Castle team will open the season here Friday, April 29th meeting the Oil City Refiners.

Cannavino, a city councilman in Erie, and quite a noted magician, has promised to unveil his magic for the baseball banquet attendees. He will put on a real show.

Tickets Distributed
Tickets for the banquet are $2.00 per copy. Tickets have been placed in the following spots—Crystal Restaurant, 426 East Washington street; Fat Morella's Dairy Bar; I. Samuels and Sons, Leather Supplies, 106 East Long Avenue; Sno-Top Restaurant, North Jefferson street, and Gus' Men's Wear, 106 East Washington street, also all clubs and industries in town, and the following Booster group—William G. Sands, general chairman, Paul Cuba, Eddie Rocks, Bob Houk, Albert Genkinger, Robert Slack, Humphrey Richards, Joe Hoyle, Robert Mills, Henry Dell, Len Gilbert, Joe Factor, Alec Samuels, Billy Mongiello, William Usseltan, Chappie Eckles, and Charles "Bugs" Walther.

The banquet will be toastmastered by Judge John Lamoree.

JOE DIMAGGIO HAS MISSED 8 OPENERS

NEW YORK, April 13.—(INS)—Woe and lamentation might be widespread among Yankee rooters today over the incapacitation of their idol, Joe DiMaggio, for an indefinite period beyond next week's baseball openings.

But "young" old-timers saw nothing novel in the situation; in fact, found it more or less normal. The Yankee Clipper, it seems, has a flair for missing opening day—eight, all told—out of a possible 14.

Spotlight on sports of March 1 stated that Aliquippa was the best bet to win the WPIAL Class A basketball championship. It was the understatement of the season, for the Quips also came through with the Western Pennsylvania and State titles.

Golf League Will Open At Early Date

April 27 Set For Prying Off Lid In Pioneer Golf League Here

With the season well advanced this year, the City Golf league has made plans for an early opening date this year, April 27th having been selected as the day to pry off the lid at Sylvan Heights, weather permitting. This was decided at a meeting in the Sylvan Heights club house, Sunday afternoon.

The new officers for the coming year are: Fred Lombardo, president; Nick Gennock, vice president; Louis Malizia, secretary and treasurer.

The following team will compose the league this year: Morella's, New Castle Moose, New Castle Eagles, American Dry Cleaners, United Engineering, Universal Sanitary and Manufacturing Co.; Johnson Bronze, East Side Snamrocks, Castle club, and Figulys.

Team captains have been requested to have their rosters completed this week so that the handicaps can be established.

Yale and Harvard have met 26 times on the gridiron since their first encounter in 1872.

Joe DiMaggio Returns To Baltimore Hospital

BALTIMORE, Md., April 13.—(INS)—Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankee outfielder, and his ailing right heel reentered Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore this morning.

Joltin' Joe arrived at the hospital at 2:05 a. m. EST and went directly to his room without saying anything to waiting newsmen.

Dr. George Bennett, Johns Hopkins bone specialist who reentered from DiMaggio's heel last November, scheduled an examination for this morning.

The doctor described the current flareup in the Yankee Clipper's foot as a "hot heel" and said it will need no additional surgery.

The injury will be treated with novocaine and X-Rays.

Off Six Weeks
DiMaggio will remain in the hospital for about a week. He will miss next Tuesday's opening and probably will not play again for at least six weeks.

There also is a possibility that the ailment may sideline him permanently. Recurrent flareups in DiMag's heel since his operation have kept him out of action during most of the training season.

Joe aggravated the bone area anew last Saturday at Beaumont, Tex., during a slide in an exhibition game. He tried to play Sunday at Greenville and the following day at Dallas but was forced to leave both games after 2 1-2 innings.

DiMaggio then flew to Washington from Texas and took a 1 a. m. EST train to Baltimore and Johns Hopkins.

SENIOR HIGH GOLF MATCH POSTPONED

New Castle Senior High golf team did not open its 1949 golf season yesterday because of the absence of the coach.

The team will play its first match Thursday April 21 at Ellwood City.

This week's activity by the linksmen is confined to practice rounds at Castle Hills.

Twelve men qualified for the squad last Monday and these par chasers plan to play off Monday for the position on the team that will meet Ellwood.

Spring football drills, now in full swing at Penn State, reach a crescendo during next week when the Nittany Lions engage Duquesne university and Bucknell university in practice scrimmages.
